

ADOPTED BY VOTE OF 221 TO 92

Democratic Ranks Almost Solid For McCall Bill In The House

MOST OF REPUBLICANS VOTED "NO"

Democratic Vote Stood 143 Ayes, 5 Noes—Cloture Rule Cleared Way to Final Balloting—Republicans Fought Bitterly to the Last—Democrats Make Merry Over Discomfiture of the Enemy.

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Taft's reciprocity agreement with Canada was ratified in the house of representatives tonight through the support of an almost solid democratic vote. The McCall bill, carrying the agreement into effect, was passed, 221 to 92. A majority of the republicans present voted against the measure, the division being 73 ayes and 87 noes. The democratic vote was 143 ayes and only five noes. A majority of the republican insurgents present voted for the bill.

Next to the Senate. The McCall bill now goes to the senate, which is expected to pass it. The body is problematical at this time. President Taft believes that if a filibuster can be avoided and a vote taken, the bill will pass. He is insistent that the senate shall act one way or the other, and has indicated that he would call an extra session of congress if it does not do so.

After Long and Bitter Debate. The passage of the bill in the house came at the end of a long debate, which at times degenerated into a shouting match. The fight was confined almost wholly to the republicans. Democratic members joined in from time to time, and taunted the majority members for their lack of unity. The democratic leader, Mr. McCall, claimed that the reciprocity agreement was good democratic doctrine and declared that he was glad to welcome republicans into the democratic fold. Mr. Clark and Mr. Taft and Champ Clark might be rivals for the next decade, Mr. Clark claimed, but that sort he would win "hands down."

Applied Cloture Rule. A final vote was reached tonight only through the application of a cloture rule which shut off all amendments and even dispensed with the reading of the bill. This procedure was decided upon only after a long and bitter charge of the bill, had failed to get unanimous consent to do away with amendments tomorrow. If that had been done, the bill would have been passed by a vote of 221 to 92. The republicans opposed the cloture rule to the very last, denouncing it in caustic language. They directed their fire against the majority, and accused them, on the eve of coming into power in the house, of having been so cowardly in the past. The democratic majority, on the other hand, was thoroughly to the front in the matter of some of their old-time enemies.

Champ Clark and Daisell. Champ Clark took Representative Daisell of Pennsylvania sharply to task for complaining of the "undue haste" with which the house was acting on the reciprocity measure. Mr. Clark declared that he was not a hasty man, and that he was not a hasty man.
